

Complimentary Breach Response

With IdentityForce, a TransUnion brand by your side, you can trust that you have the right partner in place to plan for and recover from a data security incident.

Whether you want to be prepared in advance of an incident, or need to respond right away to an active event, TransUnion incident response specialists are available to assist. With TransUnion by your side, you can benefit from a proactive approach that protects your consumers and minimizes business and reputational fallout.

- ✓ One-Stop-Shop: From readiness to early strategy planning, rapid response, and support, TransUnion has access to a majority of the services you need in-house – including customer notification, print and mail, identity protection products, and forensics.
- ✓ Right-Sized Solutions: Customers receive personalized support tailored to the unique elements of their incident, their business, and their consumers. We provide all of the comprehensive services their incident requires, and none of the “extra” that they don’t.
- ✓ Collaborative Partner: As a trusted leader in the credit industry equipping businesses to serve the needs of consumers’ credit and identity needs, TransUnion becomes more than “just another vendor.” We are your collaborative partner every step of the way.
- ✓ Custom Care No Matter the Size: We continually scale our capacity and can address large-scale breaches, but also offer competitive price points for small- to medium-sized businesses. Customers, large and small, can benefit from high quality, end-to-end response solutions customized to their needs.

IdentityForce, a TransUnion brand is glad to offer Breach Response as a complimentary, value-added service for employers offering Identity Theft Protection.
